UNITA Rural Mobility 2022: extension of the University of Turin call

Dear Student,

We inform you that the deadline for applying to the University of Study of Torino call for UNITA Rural Mobility is being extended on Monday 11 April at 13.00 (CET).

UNITA Rural Mobility is a new form of international mobility that offers internship opportunities for students. It is promoted by UNITA - Universitas Montium, the Alliance of 6 European universities coordinated by the University of Turin.

The University of Turin offers 20 places in the following projects:

- The new Alpine cultural centers as laboratories for the future European University, in collaboration with VisoAViso (Ostana, CN) and Borgata Paraloup (Rittana, CN);
- Piemonte Metromontano, in collaboration with NEMO - Nuova Economia di MOntagna (Cuneo, CN), Cittadellarte - Fondazione Pistoletto and Ecomuseo del Biellese (Biella, BI).

UniTo internships will last 3 weeks and will take place from July to October 2022.

These are some of the activities offered by UniTo:

- Research and monitoring rivers
- Cataloging books and taking interviews for the Human Library project
- Gamification and educational projects; mapping and strategic planning; support activities in the village (maintenance of natural pathways, activities with kids, festivals and events)...
- Support activities at the farm (care of farm animals, production of dairy products)
- Involvement in productive activities and management of local companies

The UniTo call and the programme of the internships are now available at the page: https://en.unito.it/international-relations/unita-universitas-montium/unita-rural-mobility
